Cubi Help Module

Cubi Help module allows users to create context-base help topics. In another word, the help topics change when the current view changes.

Manage Help Category

Help Category is a tree structure that organize help topics into different sections. Each help category can have

- A parent category
- Name
- URL Match. If the current page url matches the help category "URL Match" attribute, all help tips under this category will display on the context help box.
- Description

Cubi System > Administration > Help > Manage Help Category
admin <admin@yourcompany.com>
